

Logic

Logical thinking allows you to work systematically and methodically, perhaps using a list or a clear process to deliver results. Often it means following clear steps in thinking.